Hey kids! The North Olympic Discovery Kids Marathon is not just about exercising your body - we want you to exercise your mind too. So when you are resting from your exercise, why not pick up a book and read? You can earn tokens just like you do when you run and walk.

Playing reading bingo is easy. For every 20 minutes you read, your parents or teacher can initial a bingo square. We made bingo fun by suggesting places that you can read. We understand some of the squares might be a challenge, so as long as you read for 20 minutes anywhere, it's okay for the square to be signed.

If you complete the entire Reading Log, you will get a free book thanks to our friends at the North Olympic Library System. To get your free book, bring the completed Reading Log to the Kids Marathon on June 1st, 2019 at City Pier, or take your log to any branch of the North Olympic Library System and show your log to library staff.

Read (or be read to) for a minimum of 20 minutes in order to check off one of the bingo boxes. Ask your teacher or parent to initial the box when you are finished.

Earn a token for each bingo across and a bookmark for the last one. You can collect your token at the Port Angeles or Sequim library.
